

General Manager (Exploration & Production)

Reporting Relationship	Head of Technical (SGMT)
Supervision Responsibility	Deputy GM / Manager / Deputy Manager Geophysics Deputy GM / Manager / Deputy Manager Geology Manager / Deputy Manager Reservoir Engineering Deputy GM / Manager / Deputy Manager Petroleum Engineering Technical Assistant

Position Summary

Responsible for Geological field work, seismic acquisition, skilled seismic interpreter using 2D/3D data and processing workflows, monitoring of drilling activities/reporting, play fairway analysis and mapping, wireline log analysis, resource estimation and static modeling, preparation of well drilling programs, post-well studies and reporting, good understanding/handle on basin analysis, GDE/paleo geographic mapping, integration of geological interpretation with seismic and interpretation for prospect generation/risking. Data room evaluations including both quick look and detailed assessment to rank E&P opportunities. Work experience, a plus, in basins of Pakistan including Indus basin: upper, middle and lower (extensional / compressional tectonics). Good knowledge of latest seismic techniques including seismic attribute analysis, inversion and PSDM processing will be preferred.

Duties and Responsibilities:

The responsibilities of this position include, but are not limited to the following:

- To advise Technical Head on all technical issues related to exploration and production management and optimization;
- Apprise/advise Technical Head with opportunities of safe guarding 5% carried interest during exploration phase;
- Manage and coordinate technical work programs of Joint Venture Operating companies related to geology, geophysics, production operations and reservoir engineering;
- Risk management plan and recommend participation of Company in exploration ventures in promising areas;
- Recommend Farm-in strategy and manage data reviews in new exploration and development ventures;
- Supervise monitoring of all exploration and production activities of the operating companies in joint ventures and advise the higher management on in-house evaluation on G&G studies, technical work programs, well intervention, well testing and completions, reserves and reservoir issues, production profiles of different participating JVs for effective decision making;
- Provide technical review of documents related to commercialization of discovered reserves;
- Develop dynamic exploration and production team and guide/supervise their work;
- Represent Company and participate in the Technical/ Operating/Management Committee meetings and workshops;

- To contribute positively to the protection and enhancement of Company's image and reputation within petroleum industry;
- Provide planning, fiscal coordination, budget preparation and resource management;
- To maintain a consultative relationship with senior professionals of other departments in the company;
- To take any other job assigned by the Technical Head.

Desired Qualification:

- M.Sc. / PhD degree in earth sciences preferably Geophysics from a reputed HEC accredited institution.

Minimum Experience:

- 17years' experience in oil and gas exploration and production operations with at least five years at management level;
- PhD. degree will be given a credit of 2 years and M.Sc. from a foreign university of repute a credit of one year in experience.

Required Skills:

- Should have sound technical background, excellent leadership, communication negotiation and coaching skills, as well as sound business awareness and experience of leading multi-disciplinary projects;
- Good working knowledge of standard industry technical software's preferably seismic/geological interpretation and MS Office.

Max Age: 55 years.